"DÍA DE LOS MUERTOS: A CELEBRATION OF LIFE"

A 45 to 60-minute interactive concert where the traditions of Dia de los Muertos are introduced and exposed through music, dance, singalong, anecdote, Q&A, and eurythmic participation. This presentation also includes visual reinforcement in the form of an altar.

- As guests arrive they are encouraged to stop by the altar and make a detailed observation.
- Once guests are seated, the concert will start (music will include repertoire from some of the figures displayed in the altar).
- Q&A will be infused throughout the program. These can include topics such as what the audience observed on the altar, what kind of traditions the band members follow at home, composers of songs played, or about something they heard in an anecdote.

*Due to the nature of this program an average of between 10-15 songs are played. The song selection is catered to audience's response and participation. Some audiences may want to dance more while others enjoy the Q&A or prefer to sing and clap along.
